Special Tips

DTG: The amount of pre-treat used on fabric blends might differ to the amount used on 100% cotton.

SUBLIMATION: Best results on 100% polyester, use it preferably on white or light colours. Use 50% polyester blends or higher for vintage and faded prints. Always check temperature settings to avoid melting of polyester.

DECORATOR'S

HEAT TRANSFER/ DIRECT TO FILM (DTF)

Both Heat Transfer and DTF printing are heat-based methods ideal for detailed, colourful graphics. DTF's use of transfer film offers added flexibility and a soft, durable finish across various fabrics.

DIRECT TO GARMENT

Direct to Garment printing (DTG) is printing on textiles using inkjet technology which usually utilizes specialized water-based inks. DTG is particularly effective for short runs, full colour printing, or for reproducing fine detail.

EMBROIDERY

Embroidery is sewing a design, type or logo onto a garment with special thread. This technique gives garments a higher perceived value and works particularly well on heavier weight garments such as fleece.

TECHNIQUES

TIE DYE

The process begins with damp fabric, which is gathered and secured with rubber bands or string to create resist areas where dye will not penetrate. Dyes are then applied to exposed sections, either in a random or patterned way, allowing colours to blend naturally. After the fabric absorbs the dye, it is left to set often for several hours to ensure colourfastness. Finally, the fabric is rinsed, washed, and dried, revealing bold, one-of-a-kind designs that are almost impossible to duplicate.

SUBLIMATION

Sublimation printing is a digital process that uses heat and pressure to turn inks into gas, which then penetrates materials for a permanent imprint. This method results in high-quality, vibrant prints that are less prone to cracking or fading.

SCREEN PRINT

Screen Printing (or Silk Screening) is a technique that uses stencils and ink to create designs on garments. It is the most economical method for producing large quantities that involve cotton or cotton-blend garments.
